NUMBER 26

Law-abiding, moral citizens don't want any repeal of the Sunday Law.

All the church-going, law-abiding people of Frankfort endorse Judge Sneed's action in having the Sunday Law enforced.

The Legislature could pass no measure that would be more acceptable to a very large portion of the people of Kentucky than Gathright's Sunday Law.—Courier-Journal.

That's the kind of music the people like to hear from a great newspaper. Free beer and free whisky can't purchase the Courier-Journal as an organ of whisky-guzzlers, rum-sellers and bar-room politicians to advocate the repeal of the Sunday Law.

The following resolution expresses the sentiments of the temperance people of our city on the enforcement of the Sunday Law. It was authorized at a meeting of the Frankfort Christian Temperance Union held at the court-house last Saturday night.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the action of our Police Judge, Hon. W. H. Sneed, in the strict enforcement of the State law and city ordinance requiring a cessation of labor and business on Sunday in the interest of law and order, and hereby pledge to him our strongest support for the maintenance of the step he has taken.

The following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted at a meeting of the Good Templars held in this city Thursday night:

WHEREAS, An earnest effort is being made in our city by the Police Judge and his associates to execute the Sunday Law; and

WHEREAS, The chief offenders against this law have always been the keepers of saloons and other vendors of strong drink, therefore

Resolved, That in the interest of law and order, temperance and religion, we hereby heartily endorse this laudable effort, and promise it all the support in our power to make it permanently successful.

Resolved, That the city papers be requested to publish this resolution.

Mr. Frank Chinn will immediately begin the erection of a nice cottage, to contain five rooms, on Shelby street, South Side, just beyond Dr. Henderson's property. Mr. Wm. L. Graham has the contract for building it.

A piece of corn bread was unearthed back of McClure & Bro.'s store yesterday, at a depth of about five feet, which was in a perfect state of preservation. It is thought to have been buried there for twenty-five or thirty years.

The Parisian Troubadours are out on a tour, during which they propose to visit Frankfort. This troupe of amateurs is spoken of in the very highest terms of praise by the press of central Kentucky, and we hope our people will pack Major Hall when they come.

Mr. I. Davis has something to say about Sunday Law. See advertisement.

Several interesting communications are necessarily crowded out this week.

The Yeoman's motto: "Enforce the Hog Ordinance and repeal the Sunday Law."

"It is not bread we want on Sunday, nor meat, nor milk, but whisky, and plenty of it"

Mr. Wm. Craik has a nice little house in South Frankfort for rent. See advertisement.

Mr. Darsie preaches at the Christian Church to-morrow night on "The Sunday Law." A cordial invitation to all.

Jno. B. Dryden is a public-spirited man. See the nice work he has had done in and about the post-office lobby at his own expense.

One of the most prominent druggists in this city says he wishes a law would be enacted compelling drug stores to close up entirely on Sundays.

The editor of the Louisville Sunday Argus comes to Frankfort, eats at the Capital Hotel free of charge, and then goes home and abuses the hotel as a third-class affair. He's opposed to the Sunday Law.

Hon. John D. White.

On the arrival of the 2-40 p. m. train from Lexington yesterday, Wolfe's fine brass-band stepped off the train and began playing some fine music. Shortly afterwards, Hon. John D. White made his appearance, and was cordially greeted by friends on every hand—personal friends who took no thought of the difference or similarity of their politics.

He was escorted to the Weitzel Hotel by the Republican members of the Legislature, followed by the band and hundreds of citizens, both white and colored. Arriving at the hotel the band began to play, and before it finished scores of other people reached the spot.

Loud calls were made for Hon. John D. White when the music had ceased, and that gentleman advanced to the steps of the hotel, seemingly somewhat embarrassed, and spoke as follows:

"Fellow Citizens of Kentucky, I thank you for this evidence of your sympathy and esteem. I have been charged with making too many speeches in Frankfort already, and hope you will excuse me from making a speech to-day. I again thank you for the high compliment you have paid me."

Somebody in the crowd then jumped up on the steps and said "I propose three cheers for the man who has been wronged," whereupon the crowd gave three loud, long, hearty cheers.

Speeches were made by Senator Adams and Representative Tartar, more music by the band, and then the crowd dispersed. The reception accorded Mr. White was certainly a most flattering one.

Mr. Rose, superintendent of the Union Express Company, has been in the city this week making arrangements to open an office here on the 20th of April. The vacant room in the old Commonwealth building has been secured for that purpose.

The Sunday Law was observed in this city last Sunday for the first time in a number of years. Of course there were many persons who complained at this state of affairs, as was expected. They would complain at any measure affecting their finances, even for one Sunday, but a majority of the people were gratified to see business suspended. These croakers would growl as much at the loss of a nickel as they would at having their souls in imminent peril of eternal condemnation.

Some inconvenience was experienced by the total suspension of business, but this is not likely to be the case again as the people can prepare on Saturday to meet their wants on Sunday.

After the law is enforced for a few Sundays the people will have become used to it, and no inconvenience whatever will be experienced from it. The good people of Frankfort demand its continued enforcement at any cost.

Personal.

Mr. H. B. Cammack left on the steamer Canary, No. 2, as clerk.

Hon. Wm. O. Bradley, Lancaster, has been in the city this week.

Mr. Jos. M. Tanner, Lexington, has been in the city this week.

Miss Mary Jackson, of Scott county, has been visiting relatives in this city.

Mr. George Jackson has been very ill at his home for about three weeks.

Officer Jack Long was out on crutches yesterday. He is rapidly improving.

Miss Jennie Withrow entertained a few special friends very elegantly Tuesday evening.

Col. J. Stoddard Johnston will leave next week for a visit of several weeks to Arkansas.

Mrs. J. M. Hallam, Louisville, is spending a couple of weeks with her old friends in this city.

Mrs. John W. Rodman and City Attorney Rodman have been over to Cincinnati on a visit this week.

Misses Florence and Parmelia Collins spent Tuesday and Wednesday with Misses Florrie and Maggie Owen.

Mr. Geo. D. Todd, of the house of W. B. Balknap & Co., Louisville, has been visiting relatives in the city this week.

Mrs. Dr. Neat, of New Albany, Indiana, has been visiting the family of Dr. U. V. Williams, at Bridgeport, this week.

Miss Jennie McKee, formerly of this city but now of Covington, is visiting her aunt Mrs. Maria Campbell, South Side.

Miss Huston, who has been visiting Mrs. Eleanor Holmes for several weeks, returned to her home in Morganfield Monday.

Miss Lee Ella Bradley has returned to her home in Scott county after a pleasant visit of a few weeks to friends in this city.

Mrs. J. Stoddard Johnston went to Louisville Wednesday on a short visit.

Emmet Logan, of the Bowling Green Intelligencer, is in the city for a few days.

Miss Lou. Mitchell, who has been visiting Mrs. Clay Sale for a couple of weeks, returned to her home in Louisville Monday.

Mrs. Jennie Gav, Mrs. Ann Hamer and Mr. Rob Roy Hamer, of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting the families of Capt. John Walcutt and Mr. O. S. Walcutt, their relatives.

Dr. Will. Rodman was at home the first of the week, fresh from college in Philadelphia, where he recently graduated in medicine. He has received an appointment as assistant surgeon in the United States army, and left Tuesday for Leavenworth, Kansas, to report for duty.

Belle Point.

The Pierian Club will meet at—any time and place the president may suggest.

If South Frankfort secedes from North Frankfort she had better annex to Belle Point.

The candidates will soon be around button-holing the "dear people" and making fair promises.

Mrs. Mollie Oliver visited her relatives in Bridgeport last week. She returned home Tuesday evening.

Business in all branches is fairly booming now in Belle Point. Our merchants and mechanics are kept busy the all time.

Mrs. Belle Moore, of Corinth, and Miss Jennie Oliver, of this county, were visiting Mrs. Sandy Pence the first of the week.

The weather during the last week has thrown a damper on the outdoor amusements, such as base ball and top spinning.

Quite a number of young ladies and gentlemen met with Misses Florence and Maggie Owen Tuesday evening, and spent a very pleasant evening.

The editor of the Capital Gazette was over the first of the week looking for a suitable residence to rent. We'd be glad to have such a man as Mr. Deering to locate among us; hope he'll find a house to suit him.

There is some prospect now of reorganizing the Sabbath-school over here, which we hope to see in the near future. Then the boys will have no excuse for hunting and fishing on Sunday, which a great many do on that day.

We have the most moral town of any in the county, and candidates who expect to secure votes by treating are hereby notified to pass Belle Point by, for the tenths of the voters over here are against whisky and whisky drinkers.

When the new street is opened from Mr. Moore's to Mr. Pollen's there'll be some nice building lots on either side, and, no doubt, they will be offered for sale cheap. Will the Council open the street and give our town room to spread? We hope they will.

The Canary, No. 2, steamed the current over the dam Wednesday evening and landed at Pendleton's wharf at the mouth of Benson, in Belle Point. Our town is gradually coming to the front. We want a wharf now, and will doubtless build one before many steamers come up the river.

We heartily endorse Judge Sneed in his efforts to enforce the Sunday law in Frankfort. Now our wives and daughters can attend Church and Sunday-school without any fear of being insulted on the streets by drunken rowdies, who are in the habit of loitering around the saloons and on the corners. Three cheers for Judge Sneed!

WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT.

CLAUDE BUCKLEY. GEO. A. LEWIS.
BUCKLEY & LEWIS.
Editors and Publishers.
FRANKFORT, MARCH 20, 1880.

A Jewel(?)

When a Frankfort hog gets into the garden of the editor of the Yeoman he shouts lustily about the non-enforcement of the city ordinances, and declares "there is no use in passing an ordinance unless its provisions are to be respected;" but when he is cut off from his Sunday drinks by the enforcement of the ordinances, he squeals and squirms and swears that "a question of the constitutionality of this act might be raised upon the point of requiring the observance of one day in seven as a Sabbath."

Shame on such consistency! Has it come to that point in the history of Kentucky that a man of intelligence, reared by christian parents, can advocate the non-observance of the city ordinances, the statutory laws, and the Divine Law by desecrating the Holy Sabbath? Has the great mouth-piece of the people, the organ of the Kentucky Democracy, the unpurchasable(?) Yeoman got so low in the scale of morality that it voluntarily undertakes to champion the cause of gamblers and besotted boys against christianity, morality, and law?

The Yeoman must learn sooner or later that it cannot dictate morals to the good people of this city with the same effect that it can dictate politics to election bidders and whisky guzzlers. It is fast losing its once mighty influence in Frankfort.

Whenever a newspaper stoops to advocate such measures as the free sale of whisky on Sunday, it loses at the same time the respect of the law-abiding, christian people of the community in which it is published, and in a little while its true character is known abroad, and it is virtually without influence in the world, as it deserves to be.

The editor of the Yeoman very well knows that no persons in Frankfort "who had been in the habit of receiving their bread, their meat and their milk on Sunday mornings were in most cases forced to go without these necessary articles." Every milk wagon was running as usual, and we are assured that the said editor of the Yeoman got his beef roast on Sunday as usual. If he was cut off from his tobacco, cigars and drinks on Sunday it was because he is an improvident man. He could have done like some of his friends—bought cigars, tobacco and a bottle of whisky on Saturday, and on Sunday said, "Damn Judge Sneed, and the Sunday Law, too."

The good people of this city will support and applaud Judge Sneed in the enforcement of the ordinances, as the Yeoman will soon discover, and the good people will condemn the course of the Yeoman, as it will also soon discover.

The City Council directed the Mayor, at a meeting held last night, to instruct the police that ordinance No 33 of the city laws was only intended as a re-enactment of the General Statute of the State in regard to the observance of the Sabbath, and that no other construction can, or should, be put upon it than a liberal one heretofore acquiesced in by the public.

Judge Sneed will see that the law is enforced all the same, and the people will stand by him and help him to enforce it.

WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 20, 1880.

Five new houses are in course of construction in South Frankfort. Pretty good start for so early in the season.

There will be no temperance meeting at the court-house to-night, on account of a public meeting of the citizens.

The repeal of the Sunday Law means drunkenness, carousing, fighting, horse racing, cock fighting, and the like, on Sunday.

Perhaps the Legislature would repeal the Sunday Law if the Yeoman would intimate to that body that such a course would meet its approval.

Mr. John Gault has commenced the erection of a frame cottage on Murray street, between Cross and Campbell, South Frankfort. The foundation has been laid.

The steamer Canary, No. 2, Capt. Sam. Sanders, surprised the natives by putting in an appearance at the Belle Point wharf Wednesday. She left Thursday for Cincinnati.

Every tax-payer and citizen of North Frankfort, both white and colored, who feels an interest in the present and future prosperity of the North Side, is earnestly requested to attend a meeting at the court-house to-night at 7½ o'clock.

Some-sneak thief broke into the baggage room at the depot Tuesday night, prized the lock off of a trunk belonging to Mr. Charles Bond, of Lawrenceburg, and took therefrom two nice suits of clothes. No clue as to who committed the burglary.

The moral people of Frankfort have been profuse in their thanks to Judge Sneed and the police force this week for the enforcement of the Sunday Law in this city last Sunday, and declare their intention of supporting them in their further efforts in this direction.

At a large meeting of the citizens of South Frankfort Tuesday night, Messrs. B. F. Meek, D. W. Lindsey, and Green Clay Smith were appointed a committee to confer with the City Council in reference to the financial affairs of North and South Frankfort, ascertain and settle all matters of difference between the two sections, and report the result of their work to a meeting to be called by the Chairman.

The following resolution was then adopted and the meeting adjourned:

Resolved, That the committee is authorized to confer with the City Council and ascertain whether North Frankfort is willing to unite North and South Frankfort into one city and lay off the same into wards with due regard to population, and upon what terms said union can be had.

G. C. SMITH, Secretary.
MILTON MCGREW, Chairman.

The Sunday Law must be enforced.

The City Council rescinded the resolution last night in relation to numbering the houses in this city.

"The observance of the Sabbath" will be the subject of the sermon at the Baptist Church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. The public is cordially invited. Seats free.

Father Young told Judge Sneed this week that he had never seen such good order in Frankfort on Sunday as was maintained here last Sunday. He favors the Sunday Law and its enforcement.

Judge P. U. Major is announced in this issue as a candidate for Judge of the Circuit Court in this district. He is regarded as one of ablest lawyers in the district, and if elected, will serve the people faithfully and efficiently.

Lieut. C. C. Todd is erecting a handsome frame cottage on Ewing street, near Cross, South Frankfort. He will make it his residence when completed. Mr. W. L. Graham has the contract, and the work will be put up in his usual good style.

Geo. Hazelwood, one of the negroes who escaped from jail Friday night of last week, was caught at Simpsonville, Shelby county, Sunday night, brought to this city, and lodged in his old quarters. The white man, Robt. Mosely, is the only prisoner that succeeded in evading capture.

The negro, Frank Simms, who made his escape from jail in this city last Friday night, was recaptured near the Kentucky Military Institute Monday night, brought to this city, and taken to the penitentiary Tuesday morning, to serve the fifteen months to which he had been sentenced by the Criminal Court.

Mr. Berberich, the fashionable tailor, has a beautiful stock of cloths and cassimeres for the spring and summer trade. He in filling orders for suits just as fast as his workmen can turn them out, and he in giving universal satisfaction. Mr. Berberich is well known in this community as one of the staunchest and most reliable business men in it. He never makes a representation of his goods or his work that is not backed up by facts. He may be relied on at all times.

M. H. P. WILLIAMS, S. F. C.

The Sheriff of Franklin county means business. If your taxes are not paid by the first of May he will certainly sell your property. The foregoing comprises all the white delinquents in the county, and in addition to that, we will next week publish the colored list, and will continue to publish both until the Saturday before the sale. Call at once, pay your taxes, and have your name taken out of the paper. The Auditor is pushing the Sheriff for a settlement.
